Nameoki Twp. Board Concerned On Landfill

Moves from Chouteau Township Anticipated; Law to be Studied

Concerned over the possibility that landfill operations closed down or banned in neighboring Chouteau township might move into Nameoki township, members of the Nameoki town board agreed Tuesday night to review terms of its dumping and junk ordinances with a view toward preventing any such occurrence.

Harry Briggs, Nameoki supervisor, told the board that he believed the township's existing landfill operations are adequate to prevent establishment of landfill operations if it so desired.

Herbert Polley, board member, said there might be the possibility of movement into the area outside Chouteau township by landfill operators whose operations have been attacked recently by residents in the area of one large existing dump and in another area where a new landfill was to be established.

"It is highly possible the operators may try to move into Nameoki township and I think we should be on guard against it," Polley said. He referred to the varying actions taken recently by the county board of supervisors in the adoption of amendments and new policies concerning landfill operations.

Briggs pointed out it is likely an effort will be made at the next meeting of the county board to rescind action during the June meeting in which the board approved a policy of banning the dumping in any Nameoki county landfill of refuse from any location outside the county. He said he did not believe the amendment will be rescinded.

Briggs said that Nameoki township's existing landfill ordinance supersedes that of Madison county and that it is ample to control and regulate landfill locations and operations. At Polley's urging, however, it was decided to check through the ordinance for a possible tightening of the regulations.

The board also decided to prepare an ordinance which will prohibit location of trailers in the township unless they are placed in qualified trailer parks.

Polley said that trailers are being located on vacant lots, at the rear of homes and in any location desired without a permit to planning for future development.

Board members William Schreiber and Robert Strackelshin were named to a committee to investigate plans for installation of a flag pole in front of the town building on Highway 162, and the purchase of a flag. A report will be made at the next meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 15.

53 Units in Parade

Heat, Humidity Fail to Deter GC Woman Crowd Viewing Depot Events Killed in Missouri Auto Crash

(Pictures on Page 32)

Neither heat (89°), nor humidity (80%), nor a 45-minute delay could stop thousands of Quad-Cityans from lining streets and sidewalks to witness Tuesday's mid-day parade celebrating the Granite City Army Depot's 25th anniversary.

The parade began at 11:45 a.m. instead of 11 a.m. as scheduled, because last minute entries were entered in the line-up, and it was necessary to adjust the arrival time at the parade grounds, a Depot spokesman reported.

From Broadway in Venice, the parade progressed along Broadway and Madison avenue to Nidringhaus avenue at 12:30 p.m., and on to the Depot main gates at 1:30 p.m. American flags lined the route.

Spectators Try to Keep Cool. Most of the spectators, including many youngsters munching ice cream, refreshments and many adults with improvised fans appeared to find the parade well worth the heat.

Heading the parade's spectacular pageantry were marching bands, sumptuous floats, beautiful queens, impressive displays of military equipment, motor-cyclists and a mobile rock-and-roll band, plus other attractions.

The parade's approach was heralded by motorcycle escort of police and Shriners who zipped up and down the street with sirens wailing to clear cars and spectators from the parade's path.

In their wake came the official cars, carrying military leaders, the Quad-City Mayor, Mayor and Lee, Chamber of Commerce officials and other dignitaries. Marching smartly behind them were five ranks of the Army Color Guard, decked out in khaki uniforms, red ascots and grey berets, and the Ft. Leonard Wood Band, which boomed out several old military favorites.

Next in line was the Depot's Queen's Float. Aboard the float were a bevy of young beauties in long dresses. The inscription "25th Anniversary" was emblazoned above the Queen's throne. The maids of honor were seated in front of her.

Two exhibits offered examples of the Army's military might. Riding lightly behind a truck was a slender 26-foot long Nike missile, one of the key missiles in the country's defense system. A huge amphibious landing tank followed.

An unusual float and the only one to be built around a comprehensive theme, was the result of a month's work by Operating Engineers' Union Local 149 at the depot.

Miss Dorothy Hinson, 1530 Third street, Madison, was installed as the departmental champion, top pick of the Eight & Forty of Illinois, Monday night in Chicago.

A stage play setting was used in the installation with an honor guard bearing stars with letters spelling "Madison County Saloon 53."

The service program of the organization includes assistance in research and gifts for children stricken with tuberculosis and cystic fibrosis. It also provides advanced scholarships for nurses specializing in tuberculosis.

Attending the ceremonies from the area were Kenneth Hinson, Mrs. Norma Hillner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austria of Madison, Mrs. Frances Cowley of Venice and Mrs. Kathryn Fellers of Granite City.

Miss Hinson will hold her fall board meeting in November in Alton, with the Madison county saloon as hostess.

July Drenches Area with Rainfall of 5.11 Inches

Heaviest rainfall of any single month in recent years drenched the Quad-City area during July, with a total of 5.11 inches recorded on the gauge at the Chain of Rocks canal where weather records are maintained for the U.S. Corps of Army Engineers.

July's heaviest rainfall not only was the heaviest of any month in many years, but was 1.81 inches above the July normal of 3.32 inches. The July rainfall was 1.45 inches above the June total of 3.66 inches.

The total of 5.11 inches increased to 21.57 inches the total rain measurement for the seven months of this year, or 2 inch above the seven-month normal of 19.57 inches.

At the end of June, the Quad-City area still was running 1.61 inches below normal. This the month included July 3 when 0.27 inch was recorded, with other 22 inch on July 28 and 25 inch on July 29.

Rainfall on other days of the month included July 5 with .02 inch; July 9 with .15 inch; the normal for the month, but July 10 with .71 inch, and Aug. 1 with the shortage in normal 31 with .16 inch.

Over 6000 At Depot's Anniversary Open House

Trains, Heavy Traffic Cause Many to Miss Opening Ceremonies

There was something for every one of the more than 6000 visitors drawn from all parts of the country who attended the Granite City Army Depot's 25th Anniversary open house Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Young and old alike found a panorama of special events, exhibits, escorted tours and elaborate ceremonies awaiting them at the open house. The only problem was getting there to take it all in.

Since the main thrust of the anniversary activities and ceremonies followed the arrival of the parade at the Depot 1:30 p.m., the great majority of the visitors crowded in the early afternoon. Nidringhaus avenue leading to the Depot was unable to cope with the heavy flow of traffic.

Bumper-to-Bumper

What normally would be a five-minute drive from downtown to the Depot, became an hour-long trial for motorists who inched along bumper-to-bumper. The passage of two long, slow freight trains at the railroad crossing added to the traffic snarl.

Some preferred the sweltering mid-day heat of the sidewalks to the immobility of their cars. They parked at the curb and walked the distance to the Depot.

Because of the traffic problem, many persons missed the opening ceremonies which began with a presentation and unveiling of a plaque from the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. The plaque was permanently at the foot of the Depot's main flagpole.

"Next came the presentation of the Treasury Department's U.S. Savings Bond Minute-Man flag, and after the flag was raised, employees with outstanding work records at the Depot were honored with silver trays and loving cups."

Parachutists Drop

By 3 p.m., in time to watch the world champion U.S. Army "Golden Knight" parachutists perform, the crowd at the Depot had swelled to its peak size.

Despite overcast weather conditions and heavy air currents which limited the "Golden Knights" to jump at 3000 feet instead of the hoped for 14,000 feet, the thousands of spectators who lined the edge of the Parade Field still saw a spectacular performance.

A large wreath-paper X in the middle of the field marked the target for the jumpers. Smoke bombs were set around it and balloons were released so that the jumpers could judge the wind currents when coming in to land.

The crowd stirred as the drop plane passed once and no parachutists jumped. "The combination of winds and the low altitude of the plane was a spectacular performance."

Next came the presentation of the Treasury Department's U.S. Savings Bond Minute-Man flag, and after the flag was raised, employees with outstanding work records at the Depot were honored with silver trays and loving cups."

S. Nameoki Rd. Bid Call Possible For Next Month

Right-of-Way Purchase Fund Release by State May Cause Month Delay

There is a possibility of a September bid call by the Illinois State Highway Department for right-of-way have been filed under the state highway department's "quick-track" procedure, considerable delay in the procedure remains before the state highway department can call for contractors' bids.

After the court fixes prices for purchase of the tracts needed for construction right-of-way, the state requires a 30-day period to pay the allotments. The court does not convey title to the right-of-way to the state until after the payments are made.

The highway engineer said that bid calls usually are docketed early in the month. Since there appears little chance that title to the right of way can be cleared before mid-September at the earliest, it is more likely that the bid call will be issued in October, rather than in September.

There had been some hope earlier in the year that bids could be called in August to permit beginning of construction by early fall. If a bid call is issued in October, construction is not likely to get under way until early winter.

Bids customarily are advertised at least three weeks before a contract is awarded, assuming that available bids are within estimated figures.

The state highway department set up an sum of $700,000 for the right-of-way improvement project, plus an additional $40,000 for purchase of needed right-of-way. Both right-of-way purchases and construction work were listed in this year's highway department work schedule.

Improvement of the north section of Nameoki road was completed this year.

Area's 7-Month Traffic Statistics Still Under 1966—But Upward Trend Starting

Traffic accident statistics for the Quad-City area in July were almost identical to those in June as the upward trend started in May.

Despite these three month increases in the number of crashes and in personal injuries, the totals for the year remain below those of 1966, with the smallest difference in the number of injuries.

Totals for the seven-month period this year are 1154 crashes with 794 injuries and 12 deaths, compared to the 1966 statistics of 1233 accidents, 773 injuries and 19 fatalities for the same period.

Figures for July
Last month, there were 183

accidents with 130 injuries and one death, compared to June figures of 191 crashes with 130 injuries and one death. In July 1966, the totals were 168 accidents with 96 injuries and two deaths.

The Quad-City statistics are compiled by the Press-Record each month with the cooperation of local, county and state police. Authorities are taking note of the decline in traffic fatalities this year from 19 in seven months in 1966 and 17 in the same period of 1965. New thoroughfares and divided highways and law enforcement are credited with the decline in the accident statistics.

The largest number of accidents in any one month this year occurred in May when there were 190 crashes with 154 injuries and four deaths. The top month in 1966 was October with 210 accidents, 147 injuries and four deaths. However, last year in June and in September there were five fatalities each month.

A breakdown of the 1967 statistics by month, listing the number of accidents, injuries and deaths in that order, follows:

January—170, 89 and 1; February—143, 57 and 2; March—177, 90 and 2; April—181, 114 and 1; May—199, 154 and 1; June—191, 130 and 1, and July—103 and 1.

Expect Summer Decline in High Pollution Readings

Air pollution by particulate matter (smoke, fumes and dust) continued heavy over the Quad-City area during the spring quarter of this year, and far exceeded the ambient air goal fixed by the Illinois State Air Pollution Control Board, it was reported yesterday.

While the state air board has established no standard for the ambient air quality of "outside" air, it has fixed emission standards for particulate emissions from individual factory sources. The ambient air goal for suspended particulates is 75 micrograms per cubic meter.

In a total of 702 samples taken by the Illinois clean air board in all counties outside of Cook during March, April and May, Granite City had the highest maximum value of 1450 micrograms per cubic meter taken at the 2000 Edison avenue testing station in May, according to a report issued by the state board.

Readings at two Granite City sampling stations for the three-month spring period averaged 185, 173 and 470 at the Edison avenue site and 136, 162 and 156 at the 2600 Washington avenue station.

Maximum Readings
Maximum readings on Edison avenue were 257, 289 and 1450 for the three months, with minimums measured at 134, 99 and 206.

At the Washington avenue station during March, April and May, maximums were 149, 289 and 133. Minimums were 119, 61 and 101.

Henry S. Bieniicki, president of the Granite City Air Pollution Control board, pointed out that the new BOF furnaces at Granite City Steel Co. were placed in operation during June, after the spring quarter readings were made, and that reductions in the pollution readings consequently should be reflected during the summer quarter.

Bieniicki said that while the electrostatic precipitators at the steel plant are not yet at peak efficiency, there will be some reductions during the June, July and August quarter.

Trip to State Fair Offered by GC Park

A trip to the Illinois State Fair in Springfield on Aug. 17 has been planned to take the place of a previously planned trip to Kansas City, Harold Brown, Granite City superintendent of parks, announced today.

Brown said that the Kansas City trip had to be cancelled because there were not enough applicants to cover transportation and other costs.

The first 45 applicants at the park office for the State Fair trip will receive tickets, he said. Only Granite City park district residents may apply. Those under 18 must be accompanied by parents.

For a cost of $6 applicants will receive bus transportation to and from the fair, admission tickets to the fair and tickets to the Bob Hope Show at the Fair that evening.

Buses will leave from Wilson Park at 9 a.m. and from the Fair close to midnight, Brown said.

6 Competing in State Junior Sports Jamboree

Six Granite City boys and girls left Wednesday for the State Junior Sports Jamboree in Pekin today, Friday and Saturday. The statewide event is sponsored each year by the Illinois Jaycees and Illinois Youth Commission and was held locally last year.

The contestants are a 220-yard relay team consisting of Jeffrey Cavins, Johnnie Fulcher, Mike Martinez and Jimmy Elmore; a 50-yard dash specialist, Anna Schillinger, who won at the sectional level in 6.5 seconds; and a high jumper, Jennifer Lignoul, winner at four feet, four inches.

They qualified at the Granite City Jaycee meet May 27 and in-sectional competition in Alton July 1.

The state meet held in Granite City last year had 574 boys and girls in attendance. About 500 are expected at Pekin.

Kerner to Present Awards
As was the case last year, the jamboree will be climaxed on the final day by award presentations by Gov. Otto Kerner.

The local Jaycee sports jamboree chairman, Rich Dawdy, accompanied the six to Pekin, and several other Granite City Jaycees will go there Saturday for the meet finals and the awards ceremony. All are to return here late Saturday afternoon.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

AWNINGS—G. C. GLASS CO.
18th & EDISON, TR 7-9400

The 10- to 15-year-old athletes in the state meet are from 171 Illinois cities. There were nearly 50,000 entries in 217 local-level jamborees.

Pekin's modern new high school and a spacious stadium and park area which adjoin it will be the setting for all the events on the state jamboree program.

Skating, Miniature Golf
The Pekin Arena, with its roller rink and other recreational facilities, is reserved exclusively for the jamboree contestants tonight. The youngsters will also have access to a miniature golf course and other facilities in the park.

They will be housed in dormitories to be provided in the girls' and boys' gyms of the high school field house, and will take their meals in the air-conditioned cafeteria.

Friday's activities will begin with the traditional parade from the downtown business district to the stadium, featuring floats, marching units, a motorcade of dignitaries and jamboree officials and 16 busloads of contestants.

Following the lighting of the symbolic Olympic torch and the opening ceremonies, the contestants will watch a track and field clinic in the stadium.

Actual competition will begin tomorrow afternoon, with finals in long jump, high jump and baseball throw. Track preliminaries will be run under the lights Friday evening, with finals on Saturday morning.

Sportsmanship, Performance

The jamboree will conclude Saturday afternoon with the annual luncheon and awards ceremony. The governor will present special awards for outstanding sportsmanship and performance, and then each contestant will go through the winners' arch to claim his trophy.

There will be no entry fee or other costs for the youngsters, nor any requirements regarding uniforms or equipment. In keeping with "every child can compete" program theme, the Illinois Youth Commission has arranged to pay all cost for the youngsters—transportation, meals, lodging, trophies, etc.

Hundreds of adult volunteers have donated much time and effort to make the jamboree a success. Many will attend as trainers, coaches, chaperones and officials.

41 Events Scheduled
The jamboree will include 18 field and 23 track events. Field events include long jump, broad jump and baseball throw. Track events include dashes and relays, varied according to age division.

Each contestant may enter one track event, one field event and one relay.

Trophies will be awarded for the first six places in all events. Miniature loving cups will go to all others.

Fueling Tips For Boating Enthusiasts

Motor boating can be great fun and trouble free — providing one observes simple safety precautions.

Proper refueling practices, for example, will minimize the possibilities of touching off fires or explosions aboard a craft, safety experts stress. To avoid these hazards, follow these recommendations:

—Don't refuel while engine is hot or running.
—Use only approved spill-proof cans and avoid spillage or overflow of gasoline or its vapors.
—Never smoke while refueling.

—All hatches, doors and ports should be closed when fueling.
—After fueling, ventilate thoroughly the bilge and all compartments. Check the fuel tank and engine area for fumes before starting the motor.

An approved and fully charged fire extinguisher should be available for use in the event of a fire or explosion.

tude made it too hazardous to jump," the announcer said.

Free Fall Before Passing

On the next pass, two parachutists leaped and in free fall executed a baton pass.

Despite being forewarned, the crowd found the second demonstration of the daring art of parachuting the most breathtaking. Sgt. Snyder of the "Golden Knights" dropped several hundred feet before opening his parachute—but he kept dropping just as fast as ever. Seconds later, a second chute opened, and he floated to the ground.

The third and last demonstration gave evidence why the announcer called the para-commando parachutes "gliders." Four parachutists piled out of the plane—one bouncing off the ground, one opening chute of another in free fall—and they circled around in different directions toward the target.

The first three landed on their feet for a full two minutes after the others.

Special Demonstrations
Filling in the interlude between the opening ceremonies and the parachuting were two outstanding exhibitions. The first was a demonstration of the versatility of recently developed reconnaissance helicopter, and the second was marching, baton twirling and band-playing by the national champion Plaza band from Alton. Not the least of the attractions here were the band's leggy beauties in black mini-dresses and tall plume hats. While they were going through some formations, two of the girls lost their hats but kept on marching as usual. One of the band managers was less unruffled, as he charged out on the field and had to weave through the shifting ranks to retrieve the hats.

Train, Jeep Rides

Throughout the day youngsters jammed the waiting lines for the train, bus, jeep and fire engine tours which criss-crossed the Depot grounds. The most popular of these was the train tour. The train left every 20 minutes to take 50 persons seated on an open-air flag for a speedy ride around the Depot.

Family groups viewed a variety of exhibits which the Depot had on display. A long line of little boys was constantly assembled in front of the McDonnell-Douglas Co. "Gemin" space capsule, which will not be displayed again publicly.

Another display, which was also more popular with boys than girls, featured the "Black Widow" spiders cultivated at the Depot. Strands from the spider web are utilized as cross-frames in surveying instruments assembled at the military base.

Detailed information and diagrams on fall-out shelters attracted the attention of many of the older people, while an almost constant cluster of young and old gathered round to inspect a Nike-Hercules missile, whose delicate symmetry offered scarcely a hint of its destructive force.

With the hot and muggy weather, the two concession stands catered to the thousands of thirsty and hungry people.

Further ceremonies before a massed assembly of visitors and 400 military troops concluded the festive day. Speaker of the Illinois State House of Representatives, Ralph T. Smith of Alton,

Endorse UF Drive

The Tri-City Trades & Labor Council voted endorsement of the 1967 Tri-Cities United Fund campaign last night and assured participation of union locals in the approaching drive. New officers also were installed during an otherwise routine meeting.

formerly of Granite City, delivered a major address in which he praised the Depot for its 23 years of outstanding service to the nation and to the neighboring communities.

"The Depot is one of the vital links in our country's defense line, but more important to those of us who live in this area, is the close contact with these people who have served us so well and so devotedly," he said.

The mayors of the Quad-Cities then presented commanding officer of the Depot, Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, with plaques in recognition of the role the Depot has played in this community. The Rotary Club, the Optimists club, the Jaycees, the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, the Kiwanis Club and the Tri-City Area United Fund, Inc., also presented Col. Hoskin with plaques for the Depot.

After awards were given to the best Depot parade float, the queen's float and to the best civilian float, the Venice float, and to the best band, the Scott Air Force Band, Father Cervantes of St. Louis said benediction and the open house ended with a full military review on the parade field.

During the review, SP4 John D. Suterland, assistant chaplain, was honored as the "Soldier of the Year" at the Depot.

2 Local Forrestal Sailors Call Families

Telephone calls from the Philippines were received this week by two Granite City families whose sons were on the severely-damaged flight deck of the USS Forrestal.

Philip M. Karandjeff, 19, reached his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karandjeff, 2541 Cleveland Blvd., about 7:15 p.m. Monday and advised them he had suffered minor burns and "little shrapnel wounds," but was not hospitalized. Terry Valencia, 21, was able to telephone his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Man-lita Valencia, 1833 Spruce street, at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday and said he escaped injury.

"Phil told us," Mr. Karandjeff related, "that he was in the thick of things at the rear of the ship and had minor burns to his face and back and shrapnel wounds to his stomach. He said he was a walking case at Subic Bay."

The Karandjeff youth also told his parents that Valencia, who was at the front of the ship when the explosions and fires broke out Saturday, was unhurt and asked that his parents be notified.

Staying by Phones
Both families had been staying close to their telephones after learning earlier Monday that their sons were not included on any casualty lists, but are "breathing more easily now since the phone calls."

Neither youth was able to say if he will be coming home in the immediate future, but hope is being expressed by the families, since the ship will be under repairs for six months to a year. Time was very limited on the calls, but families were told, along lines of sailors were at nearly every telephone at the island base trying to call home and the Philippines in 15 hours.

"Terry told us, 'I'm OK, I'm fine. Don't worry about me and tell everyone in the family not to worry,'" Mrs. Valencia related to the Press-Record early yesterday morning. "We were so grateful to hear from him and to hear his voice even though Mr. Karandjeff had told us he was not hurt."

Both local sailors said they had written letters giving details of the tragedy since they didn't have time to give them over the telephone. Mr. Karandjeff noted the time difference between the Quad-Cities and the Philippines is 15 hours.

Karandjeff did mention to his parents that other members of his squadron that were near him were killed when the explosion broke out, and that Valencia had the same narrow escape on the front of the flight deck.

gram rules, 25% of the membership gives blood each year; in return, the Red Cross furnishes any amount of blood needed by all of the members plus immediate families. Another blood contribution day may be scheduled later this year, a spokesman said.

Low Turnout for Blood Contribution by Groups

Only 35 pints of blood were contributed at a bloodmobile Monday at American Legion Post 113. Groups taking part were school custodians, secretaries and cafeteria employees, plus barbers and firemen. Lawyers and ministers were added when the low turnout became apparent.

Mobile centers can handle about 200 pints of blood a day and need at least 100 to keep the staff of a medical doctor, registered nurses and volunteer aides busy. The school district granted released time to employees, but summer vacations were a factor in the unexpectedly low participation.

100 at Dedication of LaGranada Room

Dedication of a new entertainment area in the Granite City Army Depot officers' club building highlighted a ladies' tea 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles E. Hoskin III, wife of the Depot's commanding officer, presided over the ribbon-cutting operations. More than 100 guests attended.

Arranged as part of the Depot's silver anniversary celebration, the dedication formally opened the semi-private dining and entertaining facility—designated the LaGranada Room—to public inspection.

She was born and resided in Kentucky before moving to Granite City.

Youth Loses $28 He Earned to Buy Clothes

Michael Few, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Few, 25 Edwards drive, lost $28 Monday when bicycling on Strawn lane in the vicinity of Johnson road.

The boy who had earned the money himself, was going to a clothing store to buy trousers for the coming school year at Granite City high school. He was unable to find the money upon retracing his route. His mother requests that anyone who knows of the money contact her at home, or call her at TR 6-1584.

Thumb Sucking Is Normal for Infants

Their thumbs are always handy than a nipple or pacifier and helps them not to be irritable when wet or tired. They take the pleasure of continuous sucking. There are no apparent problems caused by infant thumb sucking.

After youngsters are older than two years and certainly when they become four or five years old, your pediatrician should be consulted if thumb sucking persists. It can be an embarrassment, but actually changing the shape of a child's mouth. Your pediatrician can suggest one of the preventives we carry against thumb sucking.

BBB Warns Merchants

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Aug. 3, 1967 Page 9

Of Directory Firms

The Better Business Bureau is warning merchants about mail solicitations for expensive classified advertising which seldom, if ever, are published in classified directories. The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce handles BBB warnings for this area.

Solicitation forms resemble a bill for telephone classified advertising, an invoice-type, off-and-on yellow paper to imply that it is a telephone company bill. Annual rates are listed on cards which are perforated to give a modern automated twist.

Fine print on the back stipulates that they are only solicitations, and not bills. Despite numerous mail fraud convictions, the BBB said that the racket is continuing and apparently prospering as efforts are made to capitalize on possible carelessness of businessmen who simply send checks in payment for ads that may never be published.

Directory companies named by the BBB are the Classified Directory Co., Campo, Calif., and the Classified Business Directory, Los Angeles, Calif.

2 Venice Food Stores

Disqualified from FSP

Two Venice food stores have been disqualified from participation in the Food Stamp Program, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The stores are Venice Food Center, 1001 Douglas street, and Earl's Market, 210 Paraherring. Both stores were said to have violated program regulations by accepting food stamp coupons in exchange for ineligible items and by giving credit slips in excess of the allowable 49 cents in a food coupon transaction, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest director of USDA's Consumer Food Programs.

Doyle charged that Venice Food Center further violated program regulations by discounting food coupons in exchange for cash.

Venice Food Center has been disqualified for six months, and Earl's Market has been disqualified for one month.

While both stores may apply for re-qualification after the disqualification period, this does not preclude the possibility of civil or criminal action in the courts under applicable Federal statutes or the filing of fiscal claims, Doyle said.

Dismiss Injunction Plea in Labor Case
A circuit court plea for an injunction against Edwardsville Laborers' Local 179 to halt alleged work stoppages on construction of the new General Offices Building at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, was dismissed yesterday on petition of the plaintiff.

The suit was filed in mid-July by the R&R Construction Co. of Alton, which agreed the union violated an agreement between the Southern Illinois Builders Association and the union local through work stoppages on the project.

Petition for dismissal was made before Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr after a settlement of the case was reported to be reached out of court.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Richard (Mary) Fraenkel of Florissant, Mo., and Mrs. George (Elsie) Miesky of Granite City; two sisters residing in Yugoslavia, five brothers and two great-grandchildren.

ing as registrar since 1957. He also is returning to teaching.

George R. Arnold who has been serving as chief of technical services for the Missouri Air Conservation Commission was appointed as a research associate in Public Administration in Metropolitan Affairs.

Edward Haase of St. Louis, named to a teaching post in the Humanities division. Haase will give up the post as assistant director of information in which he served nine years in Carbondale and the past three years at the Southwestern campus. The board named A. R. Howard Jr., recently director of University relations at Michigan Technological University, to succeed Haase, effective Sept. 1.

The appointments were among more than 75 faculty and part time instructional approvals scheduled for consideration in today's board meeting in the Charter Room of the University Center.

Only other business considered in this morning's session of the board was the review of parking regulations, most of them at the Carbondale campus, under which visitors will be required to observe the same parking rules as students.

While most faculty appointments had been made before noon today, the board made no reference to the employment of Rev. Peter O'Reilly as professor of philosophy at the Southwestern campus. O'Reilly, who was recommended by the faculty for employment charged recently that SIU President Delyte Morris has blocked his appointment because O'Reilly took part in the 1965 teachers strike at St. John's University, New York.

Meeting on Auto Mechanics Strike Expected Friday

Further negotiation talks are expected to be held tomorrow in an effort to settle the three-day strike of mechanics and auto body men employed by 80 dealers in Madison and St. Clair counties seven of them located in Granite City.

The strike began at 7 a.m. Tuesday following expiration of the July 31 deadline for settlement of a wage dispute involving approximately 400 members of Lodge 313 of the International Association of Machinists District 9, St. Louis. The contract had been extended two months from June 1 to permit additional contract discussions.

An additional 1200 union mechanics went on strike in St. Louis yesterday morning following a breakdown in negotiations for a new three-year contract by Local 777 of the IAM in St. Louis and St. Louis County.

Seven Affected Here
Negotiations for local area dealers are being conducted by the Automobile Dealers Association, represented by F. M. Mersinger of East St. Louis. Mersinger said firms in Granite City which are being picketed include B. E. Hohl, Inc., Ellledge Motor Co., Farrington Motors, Inc., 18th Street Garage, Handley Pontiac Co., Mathews Chevrolet Co. and Woodrome Oldsmobile, Inc.

Lodge 313 members voted down an offer by the dealers which included a salary increase of five cents per hour for each of the three years for a total of 15 cents during the last year.

The old agreement called for $3.17½ per hour for mechanics on both sides of the river. Auto body men receive an additional 10 cents per hour.

Offer Not Sufficient
Maurice Sullivan, business agent of Lodge 313, told the Press-Record that the offer of the Automobile Dealers Association "was not sufficient" but declined to say what demands are being made by the union. The union also is seeking contract changes over flat rate work and rules regarding hours worked by apprentices.

Sullivan claimed that in negotiations with the Illinois dealers, they refused to agree that any agreement reached for Lodge 313 would be adjusted to meet the wage rate for St. Louis mechanics eventually agreed upon in negotiations there.

Mersinger, however, said that the 15-cent wage offer by Illinois dealers included an agreement to pay whatever scale eventually was set for St. Louis workers.

James Reiman, District 9 automotive coordinator and business agent representing Local 777, told mechanics in a meeting at St. Louis Tuesday night that "the strike will be a long one."

Beer Truck Is Taken While Driver Delivers
James Humble, 31, of 912 Webster street, Venice, was arrested by Venice police yesterday morning about two blocks from where Humble had driven a fully-loaded beer truck that had been parked in front of a tavern.

Police said they received a report at 9:30 a.m. from Madison Garrett's tavern at Weaver and Douglas streets that a beer truck driven by William Andre, 1702 Edwardsville road, had been stolen from in front of the tavern while the driver was making a delivery.

Police broadcast a description of the truck and within a few minutes was notified by a patrol squad that the truck had been recovered and the driver arrested. Humble was booked on a charge of driving without a driver's license and disorderly conduct after officials of the beer company said they did not wish to file charges. Humble was to be arraigned in magistrate's court this afternoon.

U.S. Bond Purchases In County—$362,538
Madison county residents purchased a total of $362,538 in series E and H United States savings bonds and Freedom Shares in June according to Henry D. Karandjeff, local banker and general county chairman of the savings bonds committee.

Purchases in the state of Illinois were $27,327.70, according to Arnold J. Kuen, state director of the Treasury Department's savings bond division. This is 4.2% below the total for last June, and accounts for 6.7% of national sales which were $408,000,000. As of June 30 the dollar amount of savings bonds outstanding was $30.8 billion.

Boy Nearly Struck
Thelma Frowest, 2727 Buxton avenue, reported that while she was driving in the Kirkpatrick Homes area at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday, a boy darted into the street and may have been struck. She said she swerved and stopped, and the boy was standing by the rear door. He was asked if he was injured but he left without giving his name.

Annexation of Maryville Grade School Requested

The Maryville grade school campus may become a part of the city of Granite City. Situated at 461 Maryville road, the school has been in an unincorporated area of Madison county and lacks police and fire protection, other than the minimal police services provided by sheriff's deputies.

The 10.67-acre site, adjacent to but not contiguous with the city limits, has 370-foot frontage on Maryville road and extends back 1185 feet.

A resolution recommending municipal annexation has been approved by the Granite City school board and forwarded to the city government for council consideration.

Board members have noted that, under new state legislation, the city fire department may be barred from going to the school unless it is a part of the city. Previously, such service could be provided by Granite City firemen.

Beachers, Truck, Equipment
The 10.67-acre site, adjacent to but not contiguous with the city limits, has 370-foot frontage on Maryville road and extends back 1185 feet.

Purchase of a used 1959 truck with a utility body has been authorized. Originally owned by the Bell Telephone Co., it is being bought from Ralph's Texaco Station for $450.

There has been a good response to a Press-Record advertisement of surplus teacher desks at $5 and surplus chairs and student desks at $1. Receipts so far total $82. Remaining furniture will be sold at 50 cents each.

Bids are being sought by Aug. 7 on larger items of surplus school equipment.

Reimbursement Drops to 50%
It has been decided to obligate $18,771 for purchase of social studies, English and reading, science and mathematics equipment materials. On a 50% basis under the National Defense Education Act, the federal government will provide the remaining $9,385 of the estimated $28,157 cost.

NDEA aid initially was 50%: the currently proposed purchases had been planned on the basis of 40% federal participation, but another cutback occurred. Bidding and purchasing will take place later.

Aro-Dressel Division of Prairie Farms Dairy has been authorized to provide milk in 1967-68 on its new bid specifying the same prices as in 1966-67. No other bids could be obtained. The rates include six cents for each half-pint of white milk in a paper carton and 12 cents a gallon for bulk white milk.

Construction materials suppliers will include Reeves Concrete Products, tile and piping; A. H. Seebold, ready-mix concrete in two-cubic-yard and 2½-cubic-yard quantities; and Paul Seebold, all other concrete, plus sand, cement and limestone. Their bids list unit prices, with quantities depending on the amount needed during the year.

GCMS Library Expansion
Thomas L. Sterle for $725 will construct an 88-foot passageway between Room 202 and the library at Granite City high school.

City Janitor Supply will provide 720 feet of one-inch non-slip surfacing for $51 and 380 feet of two-inch surfacing, also for $51.

Alpha Distributing Co. will provide 26 four-tube fluorescent light fixtures at $19.70 and six two-tube fixtures at $12.60, a total of $587. Ahrens & McCarron will furnish a condensate pump for $518, and hardware purchases will total $449 from George Rubelmann, $183 from Rubelmann-Lumber, and $130 from Stolze Lumber.

Simpson's Paint will provide interior enamel and latex paint during the year and Feagan's Paint will be the supply source for fire retardant paint. One classroom is to be painted with lower quality paint than that purchased in order to provide a future comparison.

MORE ABOUT

The Depot. Symbolizing the working man, a 12-foot "Jolly Green Giant" towered above the rest of the float, and pulled from its shoulders came paper streamers connecting various canopies entitled after the Depot's director. The director guests sat beneath these canopies, and the whole effect represented the working man supporting and pulling the Depot.

Venice City Float
With a simple but elegant float, the city of Venice won the award for the best civic float. Six American flags fanned out from a star-and-stripe ensign. Two uniformed ex-servicemen, James Eberhardt and Frank Scaturro, sat in front of the ensign and looked out on a curved blue crepe-paper surface, which ended in a triangular placard saying "Best Wishes To The Army Depot."

Lunch Muncher
Although the parade took place during the lunch hour, at least one rider refused to let this get in his way. Seated amid the tall exotic plants on the parade float, Rotary Club's float, a man wearing a cowboy hat stopped waving long enough to pull out his lunch bag and have a leisurely snack.

Lost the crowd grow tired of a long succession of floats, the Tri-City Shriners offered some comic relief. They came zipping along in a scooter squadron, went through tricky formations, and added a bit of clowning. Watching one shrinker wheel in and out of a formation, a small boy was heard to remark, "When I grow up that's what I want to do."

Bringing up the rear with a screech of sirens were emergency vehicles of the Granite City, Venice, Long Lake, Depot and Madison fire departments.

A long train detained the parade near the end of its route at the railroad crossing on Niedringhaus. Cars which followed the parade into the Army Depot were backed up bumper-to-bumper all the way to Deane avenue for an hour and a half after the parade because of other trains.

Other organizations represented in the parade were the city of Madison, Madison Lions, Boy Scouts, Jaycees, the Trail Riders Club, Knights of Columbus, Job's Daughters, Piasa Indians, other branches of the armed forces and the various departments of the Depot.

Boys' Arrest Solves Three Venice Thefts

Arrest of a 16-year-old Venice boy by Venice police has solved at least three recent burglaries in which the youth obtained three watches, two shotguns and a .22 caliber pistol, it was reported today.

The youth was to be turned over to juvenile authorities this afternoon, police said. Since last Thursday, police said, the boy broke into the home of Arthur Mason, 122 Garner road, where he obtained a .22 caliber pistol; the home of Cecil Wilson, 209 Butler road, where he took the three watches and a 12-gauge shotgun; and another house on Garner road where he obtained a single-barrel shotgun.

The stolen items were recovered from persons to whom the boy had sold the loot, police reported. The youth's brother, 15, also was picked up by police but was exonerated by the older boy who said his brother was not with him when he entered the houses.

Rules for Growing Old

1. Admit that you are growing older. But remember that many of the changes which come with age are good. Fight the bad ones but make use of the good ones.

2. Make at least one good friend this year. Replace old friends with new ones.

3. Try to learn something new each day, something new each week, something new each month and something new each year. Learning is one of the best forms of living. Make sure you have a creative hobby.

4. Cultivate mental pleasures instead of physical ones. Go in for skill and strategy instead of strength and speed.

5. Cultivate a sense of the ridiculous. Do something silly occasionally just so you don't become the slave of your good habits.

6. A life of your own is very important. Do not depend on your children or relatives.

7. Look forward, not back. Today is the time you should be living in; live a little in tomorrow, but don't live in yesterday or the day before yesterday.

8. Film and Heat
When you are traveling by car, keep your camera film protected from heat and moisture. Never leave film, exposed or unexposed, in the glove compartment or rear window dock of your car.

If you store your camera equipment in the trunk of your car, be sure that it is in your camera bag. This case should be more than just a leather or vinyl bag. Never keep a roll of color film around either in or out of your camera, where it may be damaged by heat or moisture. Color quality will break down rapidly.

How to Care for Durable Press
Durable press sometimes called "permanent press" is available in apparel for men, women and children. Many household items such as sheets, pillowcases, napkins, tablecloths, bedspreads and curtains carry "no iron" labels. With a widening array of these items, it is important to know how to take care of them.

Rule 1: Avoid getting fabric very soiled. Some synthetic fibers used in durable press items absorb and hold on to oily soil, thus it's best to wash often and avoid soil build-up.

Pretreat heavily soiled areas or grease spots by rubbing in a detergent paste or liquid detergent before washing. Test first on an inconspicuous area to make sure that all items treated this way resist fading. If color is fast, let the detergent remain on the fabric for 10 to 15 minutes. On color-sensitive fabrics, remove greasy soil with a dry cleaning solution, then wash by hand with a mild soap or detergent. Wash and rinse quickly, roll loosely in a towel and hang to dry.

Rule 2: Wash in small loads—sort first of course—and use the right laundry products. Save the hang tags or labels that give laundry instructions. A recipe box in the laundry will give you a good place to file them. A description of the garment they apply to may be written on each tag or attached to it. Consult the record whenever necessary. Bleaching with chlorine yellows some fabrics. Read and follow manufacturers' directions. Fabric softeners reduce static electricity, make garments feel softer, and often help prevent wrinkling.

Rule 3: Use your laundry equipment correctly. Warm or cool water and short wash, and line spin cycles are important. Use a wash and wear or durable press cycle if available, otherwise adjust the controls by hand. The heat and tumbling action of an automatic dryer relaxes fibers and removes wrinkles that occur during wearing and washing. Turn the heat off for the last 10 minutes of the drying cycle. As soon as the tumbling stops, remove and hang garments and curtains. Neatly fold items like sheets, tablecloths, and napkins.

Make this the goal of every-day living: Today's going to be the best day of the year.

SORORITY PLANS COMING EVENTS

The bi-monthly meeting of Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held last night in the home of the president, Mrs. Barbara Johnston, in Arlington Heights. Plans were discussed for a tea for prospective members Aug. 16 in the Red Carpet Room of the Travelodge, and for a party for patients at The Colonades in October. Mrs. Glenn Cundiff will be hostess Friday evening for a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to be held in Wesley Hall of Niedringhaus Methodist Church. Officers for the coming year are to be installed by Rev. E. V. Campbell.

Miss Patricia Ann Barylske, Bhushan Bahree Wed in India

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Barylske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barylske, 3001 Pershing avenue, and Bhushan Bahree, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bahree of Lucknow, India. The wedding took place July 2 in the home of the bridegroom with a priest of Arya Samaj, a Hindu Reform group which encompasses some beliefs of Christianity and some of Hinduism, officiating.

The marriage vows were read in English and Sanskrit. According to Hindu beliefs a new name is chosen by the groom for his bride and the name Sandhya was selected by Mr. Bahree. The former Miss Barylske is a Phi Beta Kappa, graduating in June 1965 from the University of Illinois. She received a Fulbright Scholarship to India and taught English at Lucknow University, Lucknow, India, during the school year of 1965-66.

She returned here in August 1966 and taught at Columbia Junior high school in 1966-67 before leaving last June 19 for India. She plans to teach at an American school in Delhi.

Mr. Bahree is employed as a news correspondent for the Hindustan Times in New Delhi. The couple is residing at D-36 Defence Colony, New Delhi 3, India. They plan to visit the United States and Granite City next year.

Hay fever is rarely caused by hay and hardly ever results in fever. A more accurate name for this ailment that afflicts about one in 20 Americans is allergic rhinitis.

TOPS CHAPTER HONORS TWO, INITIATES FOUR

The Ship Shape Tops chapter of Madison met Tuesday evening at Schermer's civic center with the leader, Mrs. Yvonne Passig. The Tops pledge was read and roll call was taken, with 30 members present. Mrs. Georgine Lill was crowned "queen of the week" and Mrs. Billie Schuler was named "queen of the month" for July.

Four new members accepted were Mrs. Debra Winkelmann, Mrs. Dorothy Gavin, Mrs. Ann Slate and Mrs. Ruby Barreau. A weight loss charm was awarded to Mrs. Sandra Barries.

Correspondence read by the secretary, Mrs. Marie Berger, included an invitation to visit the Calhoun chapter's fashion show. The members will entertain patients at the Anna-Henry Nursing Home, Edwardsville, Aug. 5. A prize was won by Mrs. Lois Hansen. Refreshments and games followed the meeting.

Sorority Elects New Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected last night at a meeting of Eta Alumnae Chapter of the Phi Tau Omega sorority. They are Mrs. Lester Johannigmeier, president; Mrs. Charles Rodell, treasurer; and Mrs. John Tarpoft, scribe.

Mrs. Johannigmeier and Mrs. Douglas Little were hostesses to the group at the Rose Bowl. A Spanish theme was used in the appointments, and favors were small gold fans.

Sixteen were present, and prizes in the games were won by Mrs. Tarpoft, Miss Irene Hayes, Mrs. Thelma Grisham, Mrs. Rose Marie Gabriel and Mrs. Marguerite Lexow.

Mrs. Theodore Overbeck and Mrs. Lexow will serve as hostesses at the next meeting.

Look back now and then — some mighty useful lessons can be learned from past errors.

REGISTRATION TIME for Stephen Shipcoff, spring graduate of Madison high school, who is preparing for his freshman year at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. Counseling on course work is Mrs. Helen Carruthers, general studies adviser. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shipcoff, 1508 Sixth street, Madison, and plans to enter pre-medicine.

Southern Illinois University is inaugurating a "Guaranteed Center Schedule" this fall at its Alton and East St. Louis teaching centers.

In making the announcement, James Brown, assistant to the vice-president for academic affairs, said the two centers will offer a program of guaranteed classes scheduled for the fall, winter and spring quarters. "These classes will meet as scheduled; they will not be cancelled and time of meeting will not be shifted."

Day students will take a full academic program (14 to 17 hours) between 8 a.m. and 12:20 p.m. Evening classes in the "Guaranteed Center Schedule" permit a half-load schedule through attendance two nights a week, with some classes starting at 6 p.m., but most starting at 6:30 p.m.

Entering freshmen desiring to participate in this program may register at these centers for their classes. Juniors, seniors, or those wishing to pick up a required freshman level course may register for these courses at the center where they are offered.

Central registration for the program at both centers will be held Sept. 18-19 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Prospective students may pre-register at Alton from Aug. 14 to 18 and at East St. Louis from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Services for registration, payment of tuition and academic advisement will be maintained at each center. Additional information concerning registration and class schedules are included in the forthcoming fall schedule of classes. Brochures describing the G.C.S. will be distributed in the Alton and East St. Louis areas within the next few weeks.

If the G.C.S. works this year it could be expanded to include sophomore courses in the fall of 1968, Brown said. "The program is based on the assumption it can handle as many students as were registered in the fall of 1966 in those particular centers. If classes exceed anticipated enrollment every effort will be made to set up additional classes for the overflow of students."

George Grant, circulation librarian of the Lovejoy Library at the Southwestern campus, said, "This program will give freshmen students from the area the opportunity to determine if they can succeed at the college level without additional expense of transportation to the Edwardsville center. The freshman year is really an experiment, to see if the individual can 'make it' so why not give him the chance."

EIU Halts Transfer Students for Fall

Eastern Illinois University at Charleston today announced that fall quarter applications from transfer students are no longer accepted.

A university official said "The number of transfer applications that can be accepted for the fall quarter has now been reached."

The spokesman emphasized, however, that transfer applications for the winter and spring quarters will continue to be accepted.

Wins Scholastic Honors

Tatjana Kasantzogloy, 1741 Walnut street, has been honored for high scholastic achievement for the winter semester as a student in the college of arts and sciences at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Dean W. Francis English announced.

Listed on Honor Roll

Kay Marie Rheinhardt, 2720 Michigan avenue, has been listed on the honor roll in the college of education at the University of Missouri, Columbia, for the winter semester, for high scholastic attainment.

Marine Kenneth Hayes Promoted in Vietnam

Marine Lance Corporal Kenneth W. Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes of 1428 Norwood drive, was promoted to his present rank while serving with Headquarters Company, First Marine Division in Vietnam. His promotion was based on time in the service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects. As a part of the Marine Corps air-ground team, the primary mission of his unit is to search out and destroy enemy forces operating in South Vietnam. They accomplish this task through daily patrols and ambushes as well as through large scale operations mounted against the enemy.

Crime Course Planned For Students at SIU

Prisons and precinct stations will be the laboratories for students enrolled in a new two-year course in corrections and law enforcement at Southern Illinois University's Vocational-Technical Institute at Carbondale. The course will be conducted in cooperation with Southern's center for the study of crime, delinquency and corrections. Applications are being accepted for the first class to begin in September, according to Dean E. J. Simon, whose division of technical and adult education administrators VTI. "We will draw upon the total resources of the University and cooperating agencies to provide a broad and practical base of training," Simon said. As drawn

10-Year Growth of ISU Traced in New Book

The dynamic 10-year period now being concluded at Illinois State University is traced in the new book titled, "The Eleventh Decade," which will go on sale this coming week.

Written by Dr. Helen Marshall, professor of history at ISU and author of "Grandest of Enterprises," the centennial history of the university, the new book covers the decade of service under President Robert G. Bone when ISU rose from a relatively small teachers college to become an expanding university which will have more than 10,500 students this fall in a multi-purpose educational setting.

The book is available at all book stores in Bloomington or at the University Union and University Foundation on the campus. It may be ordered by mail through the foundation.

New Selective Service Law Noted for Students

Selective Service local boards complete his master's degree. If a student enrolls full time by Oct. 1 in a program leading to the degree of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967, according to John H. Hammack, state director.

High school students may be deferred until graduation, unless they fail to pursue a full-time course, or until the age of 20, whichever occurs earlier. These students should notify their local board by letter indicating anticipated date of graduation and request deferment.

Undergraduate students just starting their course of study this fall semester or quarter, or those with previous college training who re-enroll at a college, university or similar institution will be considered for student deferment if they submit to their local boards a signed request for deferment and the school verifies that they are satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of education.

Full-Time Attendance

In addition, those with previous college training will be required to have their school verify that they were in full-time attendance during the spring 1967 semester. They will continue to be deferred as students until they complete the requirement for the baccalaureate degree, fail to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction, or reach their 24th birthday, whichever occurs first.

Selective Service forms 104 for requesting a college student deferment will be available soon at any local board office or college admissions or registrars offices in Illinois. It will be necessary to submit this form or a request in writing.

A student's academic year includes the 12-month period following the beginning of his course of study. A student in a four-year course should have earned 25% of the credits required for his degree at the end of his first academic year, 50% at the end of the second year and 75% at the end of his third year.

Five-Year Program

Those enrolled in a regular curriculum of five years will be expected to complete 20% each year on schedule.

It is the responsibility of the student to provide his local board each year with evidence that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction.

Graduate students may be deferred if they are in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy or optometry, or in such other subjects necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest.

Any student who re-enrolls for his first year of graduate study on Oct. 1 will be considered for deferment for one year. Continued deferment will not be granted unless they are enrolled in the healing arts.

Any student who enrolls for his second year of graduate study by Oct. 1 will be considered for deferment for one year to com-

Music Prof. at SIU-SW Uses
New Violin Teaching Method

A music professor at Southern Illinois University spends hundreds of hours each year and travels thousands of miles to advance a relatively new concept of violin instruction for children.

He is John Kendall, SIU's director of string development, who in the last five years has conducted workshops and institutes in more than 40 states. His lectures and demonstrations with children in the classroom have been absorbed by hundreds of music teachers around the world. His novel approach to teaching revolves around the Suzuki method.

Developed 18 years ago by the renowned Japanese musician, the Suzuki style departs from the normal teaching concepts in that children learn to play violin in the same manner that they learn to talk or walk—by following the examples of others. The reading and formal applications of music are mastered later, after the child has learned the basic manipulations of playing through emulation.

Kendall has become one of Suzuki's most ardent disciples and continues to promote the philosophy in schools and colleges throughout the country. Presently he is culminating this year's activities in Japan with the Master himself, Suzuki, assisting as resource leader for the Japan talent education tour. The three-week program is being attended by more than 50 American music teachers and more than 100 Japanese instructors.

A frequent visitor to Japan, Kendall will help guide teachers through various cities in Japan where they will observe the concept in action in Japanese school systems.

Kendall not only serves as a music professor at the new campus, but also writes articles, serves as guest conductor for orchestras and has the seat of first violinist at SIU's Faculty String Quartet.

To some his schedule might seem overtaxing but to John Kendall, "it's just a fiddler's way of doing what comes naturally."

The high school office hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Boushard Honored for 50 Years with GM&O

His 51st year in railroading was started this week by Louis A. Boushard, 2861 Benton street. Boushard received special honors Tuesday afternoon in a ceremony at the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad yard offices in Venice where he was presented with a 50-year pin and a gold lifetime pass by S. G. Thompson, division superintendent, who came here from the Murphysboro office on the anniversary date.

When he started with the Chicago & Alton Railroad at the age of 14, Boushard lived in Venice and either walked or caught a train to get to his job as messenger at the freight office in East St. Louis. He now is freight agent with offices in East St. Louis.

Recalling his early days, Boushard, who now is 64, said rail operations were much smaller and slower then.

He remembers the tremendous slowdown in rail traffic during the depression years of the 1930s and then the slowdown after world war II before the railroads completely switched to diesel engines and began acquiring specialized equipment for handling all types of cargo and freight.

"I started on a summer job on Aug. 1, 1917, when world war I was keeping railroads busy, and I just stayed on, finishing my education at night school," the career railroader said.

He moved up from messenger to yard clerk and as chief clerk to the superintendent in Venice before becoming freight agent July 1, 1949.

Boushard said the old Chicago & Alton railroad was taken over by the B&O and then was bought by GM&O in 1946.

He is quite proud of his 50-year lapel pin and with the gold pass that is signed by G. P. Brock, president of GM&O, headquartered at Mobile, Ala. Boushard's wife, Martha, also was a recipient of a pass.

Boushard plans to continue at his post until retirement. He is active in the First Baptist

Quad-City Mental Health Clinic in New Quarters

The Quad-City clinic of the Madison County Mental Health district moved into newly remodeled quarters at 2024 State street Tuesday, occupying offices that should give the clinic simple facilities for many years to come, according to Edwin Reiske, chairman of the Quad-City Mental Health chapter.

The new facilities provide ten large office and clinical rooms, a waiting room, reception room, secretary's office and clinical rooms, a waiting room, reception room, secretary's office and a large conference and office room 14x37 feet that can be divided into two rooms with folding doors.

Maynard Mercer and Harry Bager were contractors for the remodeling work which consisted of building the former bowling alley into individual paneled offices. All are carpeted and air conditioned. The clinic formerly occupied offices at 12434 Niedringhaus avenue.

Reiske said a five-year lease with a $450 monthly rental has been signed with John Karoly, realtor serving as agent for Morris Chapman, lawyer, owner of the building. Reiske said the lease provides the rental agreement is cancelled if the Quad-City board should either buy or build its own clinic building. Reiske said, however, that the new quarters "should give us all the facilities we need for many years to come."

The Quad-City Mental Health Chapter was organized about 12 years ago as part of a county-wide organization and in recent years was supported in part by United Fund allocations.

Since voter approval of a special tax rate for a Madison County Mental Health district a year ago, the agency now receives its funds from irregular taxes and no longer participates as a United Fund agency.

Two Autos Collide
Autos driven by Donald J. Gravelle, 722 Washington avenue, Madison, and Pearl J. Starck, 1933 St. Clair avenue, collided on St. Clair avenue at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Be your own man—it never pays in the long run to let others do your thinking.

Impressive 'Investment in Youth' at Depot This Year

Often it seems that the real beneficiaries of social betterment projects are the social workers themselves. It is a matter of record that the great sums of money spent in anti-poverty projects have to date opened far more jobs for social workers than occupations for the underprivileged and culturally deprived.

Against this treadmill record, the Granite City Army Depot's "Investment in Youth" efforts seem particularly impressive.

Over the past year, the Depot has been one of the Illinois-Missouri Metropolitan Area's largest employers of youth. The boys and girls working at the Depot all come from poverty backgrounds, and are between the ages of 16 and 22.

241 in Two Programs

Presently, the Depot employs 130 youths in the Youth Opportunity Campaign (YOC), and sponsors 106 trainees in the Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC).

The NYC's are high school dropouts who work 20 hours a week at the Depot and are paid $1.40 an hour by the U. S. Department of Labor.

The YOC's work full-time for the same wage rate and are paid directly by the Depot. YOC's all intend to continue their education. They comprise 7.6% of the Depot's regular work force.

Skills, Tuition Funds

The programs aim at providing the youths with the work experience which would qualify them for full-time employment or to provide them with funds to stay in school or return to it. Coordinators of the youth project agree that the Depot has not been disappointed in expecting them to handle a sizable share of the overall workload.

While assisting Depot workers, the youths have had an opportunity to pick up many of the skills required in such fields as automotive mechanics, industrial equipment mechanics, secretarial work, metal fabrication, tool keeping, warehousing, inventory counting, commissary work, carpentry and boiler operation.

No Other Jobs Available

Interviewed by the Press-Record, a group of 22 youths agreed their only opening for employment this summer was with the Depot. Most had submitted applications elsewhere and seen them rejected.

Jobs were hard to impossible to get, they said, because of their age, their unfinished educations and their lack of job experience.

One of the YOC's discussed enthusiastically his plans to enter college as a sophomore this fall in North Dakota where he had a partial scholarship. He is working toward a degree in engineering. Before being taken on by the Depot, he had been faced with the prospect of quitting school because he was short of money.

A girl in the group related that she learned to type at the Depot and now feels capable of holding a secretarial position.

Jobs Challenging

All felt that their jobs were challenging, and added that the chance for hard work and hard cash was a welcome one.

With emphasis on the practical concerns of equipping the youths for good employment potential and enabling them to earn the money to send themselves through school, "counselor" is a word not used at the Depot.

Asked what he thought of the "counselors" at the Depot, one boy paused for a moment and said, "Oh, I guess you must mean the work aides. I think they're all pretty great."

"These boys and girls have been swamped with counselors ever since grade school. We're only here to help them make their own way," explained one aide.

Assisted with Problems

The work aides add a valuable personal element to the Depot's youth project, but they do not look upon themselves as disciplinarians, nursemaids or on-the-job parents.

At the Depot full-time, the work aides assist the youths in any problems they may have, whether it be simply finding a ride to work or something of a more personal nature.

In addition, they arrange lectures and films covering a variety of current topics for the youths in their non-working hours, and tutor them in such necessary talents as presenting oneself well in a job interview, or properly filling out a college or job application.

Link to Continue

The Depot's concern for the youths will not end with the summer. All the YOC's will return to school in the fall, but some may work part-time at the Depot.

The NYC's will continue to work at the Depot until good outside jobs are found.

From the look of things at the Depot, the "Investment in Youth" has been a profitable one.

Children's Carnival Nets $9 For Muscular Dystrophy

The story of the Hollenbeck family backyard carnival offers a change for persons who have grown tired of all the worry and what influence watching so much violence and crime on TV might have upon the young.

The Hollenbeck children, Joan, 10, and Bob, 12, got the idea for their carnival from watching

Joan and Bob sent away for a booklet telling them how to go about staging a carnival and as target for ball-throwing, the other, four booths were arranged, and there was plenty of pop-corn and soda for the hungry and thirsty.

The booths included the Claudius Crow Throw (a cardboard cut-out crow with an open mouth about staging a carnival and as target for ball-throwing), the Canadian Ham-mer (a large board against which the contestants tested their proficiency at hammering in nails), and a dart-throw. For the lucky, there were prizes of silly putty, plastic mice and other toys.

After two days of hard work, the Hollenbecks and several of their friends were all set to go. One end of the backyard to the other, four booths were arranged, and there was plenty of pop-corn and soda for the hungry and thirsty.

At noon on Monday the neighborhood children began streaming into the carnival and stayed through the afternoon. At the end of the day it was clear that the carnival had been a complete success. Everybody had a good time, and the carnival proceeds totaled $9.

Joan and Bob are sending this money to Muscular Dystrophy Drive, Captain 11.

The only thing missing from the carnival was balloons. Along with the other equipment, Joan, Bob and friends had chipped in to buy balloons, but, Joan shrugged, all these were popped somehow in mid-construction.

NO EXCUSE FOR RIOTS

To the Editor: The recent week of rioting in Detroit, Mich., cost the city over one billion dollars in property damage, a number of dead and wounded, and hundreds of homeless families. It also gave the Communist countries of the world probably their greatest propaganda victory of all time.

We hear the usual excuse for the riots. They are the same excuse that were trotted out in the wake of the Watts riot. The ghettos are blamed; yet people of all races have lived in ghettos in the past, but they have not rioted.

Poverty is blamed for the riots; yet poverty-stricken Negroes in America, but they are not rioting.

Moreover, there are millions of poor but upstanding Negro citizens who deplore violence and disorder and who do not subscribe to riots.

If living in poverty reposes in one a duty or a right to riot, then Abraham Lincoln would have been the Stokely Carmichael of his day.

Discrimination, we hear, is back of the riots; yet millions of lowly immigrants have come to this country, immigrants who could not even speak the English language and who were thus placed at an additional great disadvantage.

The immigrants reacted to the discrimination against them in a totally different way. When they could not find work, they created it by setting up their own little shops. They became self-sufficient. They became homes where they gave thanks for what they had earned.

These immigrants did not believe that they had the right to demand handouts . . . to plunder or to burn or to destroy or to kill.

Eradicating the slums, we are told, is what will prevent riots. Yet, Watts was not a slum. Slums are not built. They develop as a result of careless living of people—people who throw their trash in the hallways and on the stairways, into the yards and onto the street.

Unfortunately for the Negro, a minority of them have chosen for their leaders such men as Stokely Carmichael, James Ray, Brown and others who go about the country preaching the philosophy, "Because I am black, give me that."

The American people had better wake up and heed the words of our beloved late President John F. Kennedy, who said, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." It is necessary that we wake up before the cancer of racial hatred destroys our country from within.

PLEASANT RECOLLECTIONS OF LOCAL AREA, PEOPLE

To the Editor: This week my family and I will move to University City, Mo. We were residents of the Granite City community for seven years and in those seven years became an integral part of it. We're happy to leave and the opportunity to be citizens of Granite City.

While we were most closely associated with the membership of Hope Lutheran Church, at the same time we experienced many relationships which we would not want to forget.

The Granite City area can be justly proud of its school system, administrative personnel and teachers. Our experiences in the schools was a good one and we're hopeful that they will continue to receive the personal support of Granite citizens.

The program of recreation in the park district should also be mentioned.

Obviously, there are so many facets of the community that one cannot include them all.

As we now move to a new community, we do so with pride but also with the excitement that comes from such a move. Any community large enough will only reflect the personal concern of its citizens.

We hope that Granite City residents will continue to realize that good city government, good schools and all these services unite to do just that—help. They are the result of people willing to spend the time shaping them and fulfilling the endless duties that are involved.

REV. ALFRED BULS.

TREATY MAY LEAD TO TAKEOVER OF CANAL

In the days ahead, many see Communist victory on American soil!

I speak about the Administration's embankment on the Panama Canal Treaty, which it will attempt to ramrod through the Senate.

At the helm appears to be none other than "old friend" J. William Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Fulbright has had an illustrious career in distinguishing himself with the United States. He is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the infamous Test Ban Treaty—which gave Russia the edge over us in space.

In on the plot, too, are LBJ, Dean Rusk and Robert Strange McNamara, concealing the obvious from the people and saying that this treaty is not an American surrender.

This treaty may not even be discussed on the floor of the Senate, but there are certain documents that tell about the Communist origin of the Panama Canal surrender that you should know. "Because I am black, give me that."

The American people had better wake up and heed the words of our beloved late President John F. Kennedy, who said, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." It is necessary that we wake up before the cancer of racial hatred destroys our country from within.

Federal Action Warranted to Avoid Some Of the Inequities in Steel Competition

The warning of foreign steel competition, sounded by Laclede Steel Co. President Paul B. Akin, is one that should be noted by Congress and the national administration.

The issue is not protectionism for profit, although a strong case for this could be made, citing the unfair "add-on" charges being levied by foreign governments. Rather, the issue is survival of American steel firms as a healthy, modern, competitive industry and the implications this has for our national defense; free trade is not one of the things that can be counted upon during times of war.

The secondary but not unimportant point is that regardless of how cheaply a product can be bought, it matters whether it is produced here or abroad. Unemployed steelworkers do not remain full-fledged consumers, of steel or other goods, and it is a consumption that combines with production to keep the U. S. economy going.

What has been happening in the world steel picture?

The Laclede Steel enterprise affords an example. In 1966, its sales dollars were distributed as follows: purchased materials and services, 50 cents; employment cost, 42 cents; depreciation and interest, four cents; and pre-tax earnings, four cents.

In the same year, for each $1 paid to a steelworker in this country, a Japanese steelworker received only 21 cents. European employees received only 25 cents.

With 48¢ pre-tax profits, Laclede could plunge itself "into the red" by cutting prices 4% or 5%. But even this would not put it on an even par; with the local firm spending 42% of its income on wages and a typical foreign company spending only a third as much, the latter has much greater pricing flexibility.

Technology supposedly is an offsetting ingredient, but many steel plants abroad are more modern than those in the U. S., some of them financed by our foreign aid. This permits lower debt, fewer workers and a cash reserve for even faster technological progress.

Laclede and other American steel producers are not asking for some artificial means of invading foreign markets, many of which have been closed to us. Nor do they want to cut wages; instead, pay undoubtedly will continue to move upward.

But with steel imports rising 33% in January, May 1967 over the 1966 rate, some action is imperative to slow out the trend regarding steel utilized in this country.

A big step in the right direction would be tariffs to match the border taxes, surcharges and cost-of-entry expenses encountered overseas.

U.S. Giving No Detailed Vietnam Military Reports to UN Officers

(U. S. Department of State) collective self-defense recognized in the Charter of the United Nations.

The UN Charter imposes no obligation on members to make military information available to the Security Council. Since the inception of the UN, or to any UN agency, nor, of the office of Under Secretary of State.

Reports by the United States to the Security Council of a spirit of Article 51, and Article 52 of the UN Charter, are of a general nature.

There are a total of 18 UN Under Secretaries. Two of these within the meaning of Articles 24 and 34 of the United Nations Charter, but rather an alliance of nations of countries formally allied to the United States.

Wartime Uncertainty, Controls Usually Cause Slump in Stock Market

By Thomas E. O'Hara, Chairman
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I would appreciate information and your opinion on the performance of stocks, and the market in general, during a time of war (for example, world war II).

Undoubtedly, you noticed that the war (the general) rose on the day the Israeli-Arab war broke out, and would the market break out in the Middle East the day after the war.

The breaking out of the war caused a great deal of uncertainty and uncertainty usually has a negative effect on the market. When it became evident the war was going to be of short duration and not spread to the major powers, the market came back up.

If the outcome had continued uncertain, my guess is the market would have gone down further and not recovered until the outcome was more certain.

Now for the other aspects of your question: 4

"add-on" charges not now duplicated in the U. S. As President Akin says, and as the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, recognized, "America's largest export at present is jobs." Immediate remedial steps in Washington are needed.

Chance for Constructive Action at Fall, Winter Legislative Sessions

Since to override vetoes by an Illinois governor requires a two-thirds vote, and the Republican margin in both legislative houses is less than that, there is some speculation that a special session opening Sept. 11 may be a "dud."

Still, the experiment may prove interesting, especially since a switch from biennial to more frequent regular sessions has been under active discussion.

House Speaker Ralph T. Smith expects the General Assembly to meet for only four or five days over a period of two weeks to take on gubernatorial vetoes and appointments. No bills are to be introduced, under present plans; they could not become effective until July 1, 1968, and it is felt that the debate required by new legislation might last several months.

Possible business for the fall session includes additional appropriations, such as one for the Illinois attorney general to administer changes in the inheritance tax.

Commissions could be created by resolution to replace any vetoed by the governor; such interim groups could work without pay and hold their organizational meetings while in Springfield next month. One commission being proposed would study the insurance industry.

With adjournment until January or February planned at the end of the fall meeting, the session may prove even more valuable. By then, matters on which both parties can reach agreement may have arisen and can be dealt with.

Every 'Litter Bit' Hurts —in the Pocketbook

One of a series of new Illinois laws aimed at motorists, pedestrians and bicyclists boosts the penalty for "litterbugs" from the past $5-$50 to $25-$200.

To avoid such fines, it will be necessary to retain wrappers and other trash until they can be deposited in an authorized receptacle. The result should be a more attractive community and state.

Other new laws ban drunken pedestrians on highways, authorize regulation of bicycles, raise the minimum fine for reckless driving from $10 to $25, require turn signals at 200 feet rather than 100 feet outside business districts or residential areas, and require that headlights be dimmed within 500 feet of an approaching vehicle.

The legislation takes into account the fact that "anything goes" is not good enough, even when one is "in the right." Motorists must live in incorporated areas, but all are affected by conditions and conduct in our state's wide open spaces.

Stage Being Set for First Skating Season at New Park District Ice Rink

It will not be long before Granite City gets their first taste of ice skating in their new rink, designed by the 1967-68 appropriation adopted by the park district.

The rink, which is to be opened with the start of the fall skating season.

Now that workmen have completed the continuing pour of the specially reinforced concrete floor—challenging and important phase of the construction—finishing touches can be carried out at the spacious recreation center, which offers both an open-air effect and protection from the weather.

Soon the structure will be in use around the year—for skating during the fall, winter and spring, and for a wide variety of other activities in warm weather.

All Persons Accused of Crimes Have Guarantee of Legal Counsel

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association) to subject prosecution testimony to cross-examination and rebuttal by all evidence favorable to the accused.

While the accused is entitled to a vigorous and resourceful defense, it also should be an honest one.

According to the oath he took upon being admitted to practice, the lawyer has promised to employ only such means as are consistent with honor and truth, and to never seek to mislead the judge or jury.

Historical Basis
The guarantee of counsel to persons accused of crimes was inherited from English Common Law, although in England, it was denied to persons charged with treason until after the Revolution of 1688.

Three states, Maryland, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania, guaranteed the right of counsel in their Bill of Rights even before it was adopted in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

The guarantee is stated in the Sixth Amendment to the Constitution, which reads, "... in all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall have the right to . . . assistance of counsel for his defense."

The Bill of Rights of the Illinois Constitution makes the same guarantee.

50 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 3, 1917
Motorists who expect to be overtaken by darkness on country roads in Illinois hereafter will do well to post themselves on the provisions of the new state law, which took effect July 1.

This provides that no glaring headlights may be used under any circumstances within 200 yards of an approaching vehicle. They must be dimmed or extinguished entirely.

Many drivers have observed the custom of dimming their lights in passing; a "roadhog" or two who refuses rarely complies a trip without meeting a "roadhog" or two who refuses to yield his dangerous glare.

These are now placed under the compulsion law, and the state makes it a duty of the state law, which took effect July 1.

Front and rear lights must show on standing motor vehicles about the state at all times after sundown. Any person who is under 16 years of age will be fined from $10 to $25 for driving an automobile, if any person permitting a child to drive will be fined a similar amount.

25 YEARS AGO

AUGUST 3, 1942
The VTB Bridge club met with Miss Tillie Erickson of Madison. There was one guest present besides the members, Mrs. Paul Espenshade of Washington, D.C., the former Miss Irene Barclay, and honors went to Mrs. Walter Gillen, Mrs. Earl Coe of St. Louis and Mrs. Clark Rhoads. The next meeting will be held in the Rhoads home, 2889 Madison avenue.

Mrs. E. B. Thompson entertained her card club at the Madison County Country Club. Mrs. Gladys McConnell, Mrs. Opal Ryan, Mrs. Oma Ryan and Mrs. Dorothy Michel were winners of prizes. Tallies were marked for eight, including a guest, Mrs. Bertha Whelan.

Miss Amelia Bruus was hostess to her pinocchio club, the CCB. The meeting held at the Bruus home near Stalling. Three tables were occupied and Mrs. Joseph Robbers, Mrs. John Harburg, Mrs. Grover Jansen and Mrs. Eugene Baumberg held winning scores and received prizes.

A delightful club party was entertained at the Madison County Country Club. Mrs. Charles L. Erickson, 2741 Washington avenue, eight took part in the pinocchio games and Mrs. Edwin Ameling, Mrs. Fred Albers and Mrs. Walter Rivard scored prizes.

Learning the Art of Loafing

(Zionville, Ind., Times)
Did you ever see a child watching a catnap? Or walking purposefully along a sidewalk missing all the cracks? Did you ever see an older child lying on his back watching clouds in the sky, or leaves on a tree? Or a teenager ambling along a street, kicking stones? Are children too busy these days to have important things to have time for reverie—or day dreaming?

Parents are funny people. We all want the best for our children. We want them to be smart, well-rounded, educated, industrious, popular, successful, healthy and handsome. And sometimes we get a little pushy about it.

We arrange things for them so they won't miss out on anything. We want them to hurry up and get a head start.

We ply them with good books, saturate them with educational opportunities, claw paw at them for every necessary thing they have equal opportunities to reach their potential.

We supply them with games and equipment, drive them everywhere, surround them with the best aids to learning and the enrichment of their lives.

We never leave them alone. We want them on their feet. We are watchful that they are gainfully occupied at all times. We worry if they are not at work or at organized activities. We think they should have enough studies and homework to challenge them and keep them from being bored, but not so much they haven't time to enjoy their particular activities.

Everything should be as perfect as we can make it—every child, every day, every hour. No time to dilly dally. The world is rushing on. Schedules, rules, grades, athletics, study work, read, watch, hurry, worry, struggle, reform, conform, achieve, excel.

These are the words to live by today. These words come from without, not from within. What do you suppose your child would do with a day with absolutely nothing to do? He probably would be bored to death. Because, in his effort to please his parents, he may not have yet learned the art of loafing.

Value of Science Depends on How Relevant It Is to Society

(American Institute of Physics)

"Science is important to society principally because it is relevant," in the opinion of Albert V. Crews, director of the Argonne National Laboratory.

Dr. Crews cites the link between problems of pollution and crime. "Until recently, pollution was a problem for the next generation. Because people are selfish animals and prone to procrastination, pollution could, therefore, be ignored."

"Now, however, pollution has reached the point where one man's pollution is his own pollution."

"Such crises as the outbreak of smog in New York City this spring are met, too often, by short-term measures that bring about some immediate improvement but tend to delay the ultimate solution. An argument can be made for a national approach to the problem, since new local laws could cause an industry to move to some other community and create a new problem there."

Turning to the problem of crime, Dr. Crews notes that there are approximately 10,000 homicides in the United States every year but less than 100 convictions. The cost of crime in the U. S. runs to about $20 billion a year.

Science Can Detect and Deter. A new legal approach would be particularly helpful, in his view, because he feels that it is already impossible to enforce many existing laws.

On the other hand, science could help. "There are many modern techniques and methods which could be developed as crime detectors and deterrents," he says.

Among the aids to police work suggested are the use of computers in sorting and recognizing photographs, fingerprints and voice recordings, and new electronic communications devices—such as tiny radio transmitters which pedestrians in the street could use to alert police.

Finally, he expresses the hope that someday we will see a system of National Police Laboratories or National Crime Laboratories just as we now have the nuclear research laboratories at Argonne and Brookhaven.

Workshops Dated Radioactively
By measuring the number of alpha particles emitted by the lead contained in the paint, pewter or bronze used in the works of art, scientists now have a sure method of dating the originals and modern forgeries, according to Dr. Bernard Keisch of the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh, and his colleagues there and at the Nuclear Science Center of Engineering College of Pittsburgh, no mistakes are possible with the method based on detection of radioisotopes lead 210. This is because it disintegrates with a half-life of 22 years unless its long-lived parent, lead 214, is present.

Half-life is the time required for half of the atoms in a given amount of a radioactive substance to disintegrate.

What makes the new dating method possible is the fact that radium is usually separated

Marine Band, Drillers To Perform at Fair

The Marine Aviation Detachment's Drum & Bugle Corps, Color Guard and Rifle Drill Team, from the Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn., will make three appearances at the Illinois State Fair on Aug. 12 and 13.

Two performances are scheduled on Aug. 12, at 12:30 p.m. and again at 5:30 p.m., in front of the Exposition Building. The third performance will be at 1 p.m., on Aug. 13, in front of the grandstands.

Under the direction of Marine Sgt. C. M. Jeffers, the Drum and Bugle Corps consist of ten bugles and six percussion instruments. Members drill to their own versions of marching classics and pop music.

In a different view, the Marine Rifle Drill Team performs special precision drill, spinning and tossing rifles armed with 18-inch steel bayonets. The drill team has successfully competed against some of the best drill teams in the nation. The members ability and coordination present to the public why the Marine Corps is often referred to as "The Nation's Honor Guard."

Both units are made up of students in the Marine Aviation Detachment's Schools and are "all volunteer" organizations. Practice is done during the students' own time. They have been performing to the thrill of audiences throughout the Mid-South since their beginning in May of 1958.

REMEMBER:
IT'S A GOOD DAY
FOR BUYING A HOME!

Tight money?
But you can still buy a home.

Even if you don't have a rich Aunt Maude, if you're putting off buying a home because it's not as easy as it used to be, get a mortgage, don't give up now. See your Realtor. He's resourceful. With his contacts and knowledge of the market, he may be able to suggest several ways to finance the home you want. For example, by arranging for you to assume an already existing mortgage. Or he may know a source that would be interested in lending you mortgage money. A Realtor can be worth his weight in gold to you. He is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. So if you're not lucky enough to have a rich aunt, look for this real. It identifies the person to see - a Realtor.

Soil Testing

Many farmers are getting soil tested now. Much of this soil is from fields to be planted in wheat this fall and from pasture land to be renovated. August is the best time of year to get a reliable potash test. Studies in recent years have shown your best bet for determining the amount of potash needed is from a soil test on soil samples collected during the summer. Tests for limestone and phosphorus needs do not vary during the year, so those tests may be made during any season. Now is a good time to have soil tested to determine lime and fertilizer needs for crops to be planted next spring. It's a good time except for the fact that corn and soybean fields are hard to walk through now to collect the samples.

Shopping for Seed

Now, while the memory of a top-notch yield is fresh in your mind, you should start shopping for seed wheat. Those, and other soft winter wheats, are best adapted to the southern half of Illinois, while hard red winter wheats yield best in the central and northern areas.

Monon is a short, stiff-strawed wheat with good disease resistance, and a high yielder. Benhur, a new variety, promises to be a good performer. It is 1 to 2 inches shorter and 2 days earlier than Monon. Benhur is superior to Monon in leaf rust, stem rust and lodging resistance.

Riley, a new soft winter wheat, resembles Monon in many respects, but it has better leaf rust and lodging resistance. Knox 62, a replacement for Knox soft winter wheat, also deserves mention. While somewhat lower yielding and not so stiff-strawed as Monon, Knox 62 has good disease and Hessian fly resistance.

Gage or Ottawa are among the top hard red winter wheat varieties. These new high-yielding, disease-resistant varieties will eventually replace Patience and Triumph. Plenty of Gage and Ottawa seed is available.

But regardless of the type of wheat you're going to plant, shop early while you have a choice. Although farmers here do not produce as much small grain as the once did, some oats, wheat and barley are still fed to hogs. When trying to decide whether to feed or sell small grain, keep the following figures in mind: Oats are worth 77% of shell corn's feeding value if not more than 25% of the grains fed is oats. It is worth at least 100% of shell corn's feeding value; good barley is equal to about 80%.

Here's what these small grains are worth per bushel when shelled corn is $1.30 a bushel: oats, 97 cents; wheat, $1.39; and barley, 95 cents.

During the last 10 years the carcass quality of Illinois hogs has greatly improved. For example in the 1956 state fair carcass contest, only 15% of the hogs entered had loin eyes larger than four square inches.

Slightly less than one-third had more than 35% of their carcasses in lean cuts. In the 1956 state fair contest, only 18% of the carcasses entered had loin eyes less than four square inches. Almost a third of the carcasses had loin eyes larger than 5.5 square inches as had loin eyes less than four square inches. Nearly three-fourths of the carcasses had more than 55% of the carcass weights in four lean cuts.

Have you wondered how to add urea to corn silage at silo-ing time? And how much urea should you add for growing or wintering cattle rations? You can find the answers to your questions about urea and other beef cattle rationing in two U. of I. animal science department booklets, "1967 Beef Cattle Management Suggestions" and "1967 Beef Cattle Feeding Suggestions." Both are available now at the farm adviser's office.

You can meter the required amount of urea into silage as it is being blown into the silo, or with bunker or trench silos, you can use a cyclone seeder or a similar device to spread the urea evenly on each load of silage. Because urea is highly soluble in silage, you can be reasonably sure of uniform urea content at feeding time.

Prisoners for Milk Handling
Operators of dairy herds at Illinois' four major correctional institutions have been compelled to learn their milk sanitation programs. Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Department of public health, devised the program as "worthy of emulation by all Illinois milk producers and processors."

Dr. Yoder, through the Division of Milk Control in the health department has issued certificates of compliance to the dairy herd operators at four branches of the state penitentiary. They are Stateville Penitentiary in Joliet, Menard Penitentiary at Chester, Pontiac Penitentiary at Pontiac and the Illinois State Farm at Vandalia.

Each was praised for having fulfilled all the health requirements for production of Grade A milk. Berlin T. Campbell of Olney is institutional dairy inspector.

Warns Against Sprays

The state's health director, Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, warned against use of certain pressurized sprays on certain pests. He reports, contain propane gas that might explode when used on hot surfaces or near a pilot light.

Fire fires and explosions have been attributed to these products, he said.

Solicit Legion Support

When we in this country under the guise of liberty and freedom of speech and freedom of action, permit bigotry to go unharnessed and terrorism of a few to spread blood upon our streets, isn't it high time for law enforcement?

With these words, addressed to the Illinois American Legion convention in Chicago, Rose V. Randolph, director of the Department of Public Safety, solicited active participation of Legionnaires as "Partners in Law and Order," theme of the convention. He urged each person present to "become an active force in the nation's fight against crime and violence."

Randolph charged the Legionnaires to engage in the highest form of law enforcement, pointing to an increasing crime rate ranging from ignoring of minor parking tickets to standing idly by when persons are at railroad crossings.
